FUNDING YOUR RESEARCH IN GERMANY

Grants, fellowships and awards for international PhD students and researchers

2018
Germany is a great place for research. Become part of a large international research community and benefit from the funding opportunities for international researchers. We have compiled this brochure to help you find the right programme to finance your research stay as a PhD student, postdoc or senior researcher.

The tables at the beginning of our brochure allow you to gain an overview of the funding programmes that best match your needs. At the end of the brochure you will find a convenient list of all the funding organisations and their programmes together in one place.

We provide detailed information on a selection of the most important funding opportunities not only in Germany, but also in the European Union.

However, many funding programmes work indirectly: they support other research institutions that award scholarships and work contracts to researchers. We have listed the largest programmes and information about how and where you can apply.

Links take you to additional information about the programmes or to application websites. Please check there on the details of the application procedure. We have not been able to include all this information in this brochure. In all cases, the relevant requirements published in the respective programme announcements or on the websites of the funding organisations shall apply.

Bear in mind that there are many more funding opportunities for your research stay, e.g. programmes that are for researchers in specific fields or only support a small number of individuals. Take a look at the databases at the end of this brochure to learn more.

For additional information, we recommend you contact the respective funding organisation.

In our brochure “The German Research Landscape” you can learn more about who does research in Germany. You can download it from our website: www.research-in-germany.org/downloads

We wish you every success!

Details of all programmes are also available online: www.research-in-germany.org/funding-programmes

ALEXANDER VON HUMBOLDT FOUNDATION
The Alexander von Humboldt Foundation supports cooperation between outstanding international and German researchers. For that purpose it awards over 700 research scholarships and prizes every year, including the renowned Alexander von Humboldt Professorship and the prestigious awards for talented international researchers named after the mathematician Sofja Kovalevskaja. One special feature is the world-spanning Humboldt Foundation Network that offers lifelong networking, as well as renewed funding and support. This alumni network is made up of over 28,000 Humboldtians, including 55 Nobel Prize winners.

GERMAN ACADEMIC EXCHANGE SERVICE
The German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD) is the world’s largest funding organisation for the international exchange of students and researchers. Since its foundation the DAAD has supported over 2.2 million scholars at home and abroad. The members of this largely publically funded association are German higher education institutions and student bodies.

DEUTSCHE FORSCHUNGSGEMEINSCHAFT
The Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft (DFG, German Research Foundation) is the central research funding organisation in Germany. With an annual budget of more than 3 billion euros, it finances over 31,000 research projects. The DFG is an independent, self-governing organisation for science and research. All its decisions therefore come directly from the research sector itself. The bottom-up principle applies. It serves all branches of science and the humanities. Every postdoctoral researcher at a German research institution can apply to the DFG for funding for his or her research.

LEIBNIZ ASSOCIATION
The Leibniz Association is an umbrella organisation of more than 90 research institutes. Some 9,500 researchers work on a widely diverse range of subjects, including the humanities and social sciences, economics, spatial and life sciences, mathematics, natural and engineering sciences and environmental research. The association also maintains archives, museums and national libraries, thus contributing to knowledge transfer to policy-makers, academia, business and the public.

The Federal Ministry of Education and Research (BMBF) launched the initiative to “Promote Innovation and Research in Germany” in 2006. Since then various measures and events have been organised under the brand “Research in Germany – Land of Ideas” to present German innovation and research worldwide. The initiative also seeks to build strategic partnerships with institutions outside Germany.

The BMBF has also established the Research Marketing Alliance, a joint dialogue initiative for research, education, business and politics. This alliance aims to further strengthen connectivity between the actors of the German research, education and innovation system and to fully exploit the potential for individual and joint communication activities under the “Research in Germany” brand umbrella.
