

Job Advertisement: Student Assistant

The Chair of Financial Markets and Financial Institutions (Prof. Dr. Oliver Spalt) is looking for a student assistant starting from September 2021. Professor Spalt is internationally renowned for his high-quality research and offers relevant and practical teaching at University of Mannheim.

A student assistant's tasks at the chair include data collection, the generation of datasets, data analysis, literature research, and proof reading.

Requirements

- You are enrolled in a master's programme at University of Mannheim.
- You are available for at least 9 months.
- You have worked with a statistical package or a programming language, e.g., Stata, Python, or R.
- You are familiar with the standard applications of Microsoft Office.
- You have good English language skills.
- You work independently and you are flexible.

We offer:

- An insight into finance research.
- Compensation as a student assistant (about 30 hours per month).
- Flexible working hours and remote working.

If you have any questions, please contact Frederik Horn (phone: 0621 181 1535). Please send your complete application as a pdf-file to horn@bwl.uni-mannheim.de as soon as possible (no pictures please). Interviews will start from August 1st, 2020.